MWA Intelligence Joins Sharp Open Systems Architecture (OSA) Program Leading service automation provider to deliver remote asset management solutions to Sharp Electronics Corporation dealerships

Scottsdale, Ariz. — Nov. 1, 2006 – MWA Intelligence, Inc. (MWAi), a leader in remote asset management tools and mobile workforce automation solutions and services, today announced that it has joined the Sharp Open Systems Architecture (OSA) program as a developer and integrator partner for Sharp Electronics Corporation enterprise solutions. MWA Intelligence looks forward to collaborating with Sharp to develop value-added functionality around Sharp devices and services.

MWA Intelligence will leverage Sharp's OSA architecture to deliver a wide variety of remote asset management solutions that enhance the value of Sharp systems at the end-user level. Key components of MWAi's Intelligent Service module—such as automated meter reading, automated consumables replacement ordering and automated service call creation—will soon become available to Sharp dealers worldwide.

“This development partnership demonstrates MWA Intelligence's commitment to become the leader in providing turnkey, end-to-end enterprise solutions for the office equipment market,” said Michael Stramaglio, President and CEO of MWA Intelligence. “We are pleased to have an industry leader like Sharp as a strategic development partner and we will actively work with Sharp to provide powerful solutions that increase productivity and improve efficiency to drive greater customer satisfaction.”

The new series of Sharp-compatible MWAi remote asset management solutions will be available at the Sharp National Dealer Show in February of 2007.
